Title page from 1609 edition of Shake-Speares Sonnets.

Published in 1609, the Sonnets were the last of Shakespeare's non-dramatic works to be published. The sequence of the 154 sonnets was composed, but evidence suggests that Shakespeare wrote sonnets in a different order.^[132] Even before the two unauthorised sonnets appeared in The Passionate Pilgrim in 1599, Shakespeare's "sugred Sonnets among his private friends".^[133] Few analysts believe that the sonnets were intended to be read in the intended sequence.^[134] He seems to have planned two contrasting series: one about unrequited love (the "dark lady"), and one about conflicted love for a fair young man (the "fair youth"). It is not known if they represent real individuals, or if the authorial "I" who addresses them represents Shakespeare himself. With the sonnets "Shakespeare unlocked his heart".^[135]

The 1609 edition was dedicated to a "Mr. W.H.", credited as "the only begetter" of the poems. It is not known whether this was written by Shakespeare himself or by the publisher, Thomas Thorpe, whose initials appear at the foot of the dedication page; nor is it known who Mr. W.H. was, despite numerous theories, or whether Shakespeare even authorised the publication.^[136] Critics praise the Sonnets as a profound meditation on the nature of love, sexual passion, procreation, death, and time.^[137]
